What is a yearbook?
It is a day in your life forever bound in pages.
It is special memories and moments condensed.
It is past realities, present hopes and future aspirations embodied in words.

Each day is but a second in time — each year but a day. And this day is but the first day of the rest of your life. I hope you will cherish this "day" for the rest of your life.

I would like to thank everyone involved in making this "day" a reality, especially Mrs. Betty Lee, our advisor and friend; Guy Garon, our sales representative from Hunter Publishing Company; Debbie DiSanzo, our layout editor, Peter Amari, our artist and Lisa Rizotti who helped me in the beginning when I needed it most.

Diane M. Raye
Editor of the Merrimackan

Desiderata

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all of its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be cheerful. Strive to be happy.

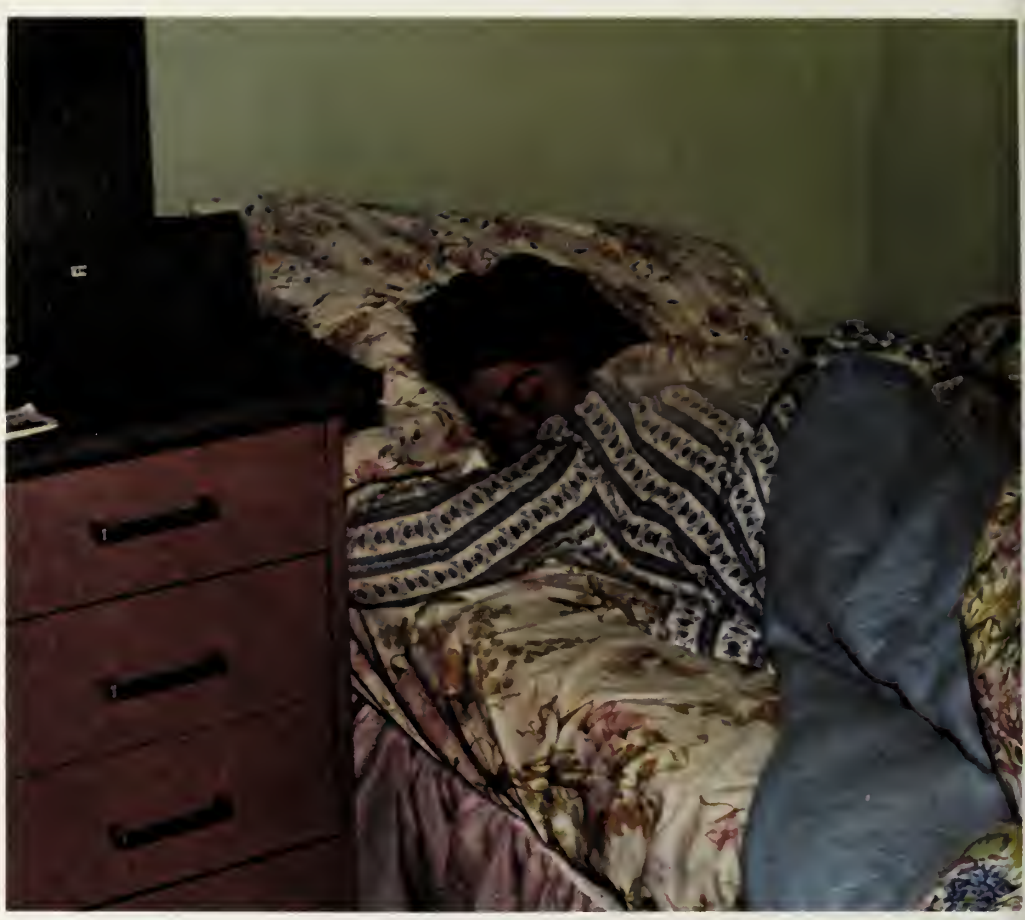
We, the students of Merrimack College, dedicate this yearbook to James Greeley for his outstanding record of service to our community. Jim graduated from Merrimack College in 1971 as valedictorian of the class. For the past nine years he has been employed at the college in various capacities; he is currently director of alumni affairs and a board member of Merrimack's federal credit union.

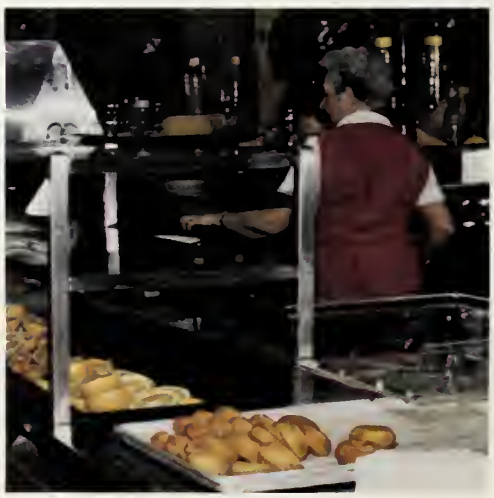
Jim has been a "behind the scenes" factor in getting many programs and activities into action here on campus. He is the moderator of SBK fraternity. Jim served as moderator of the Class of 1979 and had been our director of student activities for two years. Seeking no recognition or praise, Jim has always found gratification in the work he does for the students and alumni. Despite his modesty honors do come to our unsung hero; Jim has been selected for inclusion in the 1980 edition of the Outstanding Young Men of America for the second consecutive year.

With James Greeley working for the student population here at Merrimack College, our stay has been made more enjoyable. We dedicate this yearbook to Jim; to thank him for many years of hard work and unrecognized service to the community.

Aspiration
Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.
— Louisa May Alcott

You've got to get up every morning with a smile on your face,
And show the world all the love in your heart.
Then people gonna treat you better
You're gonna find, yes you will
That you're beautiful as you feel.
— Carole King





ΝΦΚ

When the sun shineth make hay;
which is to say
Take time when time cometh, lest time steal away.
— Heywood

As I'm driving down 114, the radio reminds me that it is now 8:05 and I am late for my 8:00 class. Still 5 minutes from school, I pray for green lights and that with my gas tank on "E", I can still roll into school. Hanging a left past the chapel, my half awakened brain forgets the speed bumps which send my books flying onto the floor of my car. With a class in Sullivan, I hope to find that virtually unachievable close parking space to the building. As I leave the car next to the complex, I dodge in and out of cars like a linebacker and run an indeterminable length to the door. Racing up the stairs to the last door on the left on the second floor, my out of breath gasps are audible to every class along the way. I slouch into my seat, the teacher acknowledges my presences with a greeting of, "Good Morning Ms. Smith, so glad you could join us." So begins the day at Merrimack College.

After my 8:00 eye opener, I have an hour and a half to kill before my 11:00 class. With every good intention of studying in the library, I am instead sidetracked to the basement of Gildea to the beloved homing place of all commuters: the Canteen. Famous for their coffee guaranteed to get those taste buds alive, I lay out the 30¢ and sit down with some friends waiting for the next class to begin. After my last class, I run to my car, praying that it will start to get me to my tuition earning job on time.

The Commuter Council would like to thank all the people affilated with the Council and hope that next year will be as prosperous as this year.

Thank You,
Commuter Council

New Year's Eve Party

Today I do what must be done
I give my time to total strangers
But now it feels as though the day goes on forever
More than it ever did before.

Now you're afraid that we have changed
And I'm afraid we're getting older
So many broken hearts, so many lonely faces
So many lovers come and gone.

I'll have my fears like every man
You'll have your tears like every woman
Today we'll be unsure, is this what we believe in
And wonder how can we go on.

When the sun goes down
And the day is over
When the last of the light has gone
As they pour into the street
I will be getting closer
As the cars turn their headlights on
While they're closing it down
We're gonna open it up
And while they're going to sleep
We'll just be starting to touch
I'm just beginning to feel
I'm just beginning to give
I'm just beginning to feel
I'm just beginning to live
Before I leave you again
Before the light of the dawn
Before this evening can end
I have been waiting so long.

Until the night, until the night
I just might make it.
Until the night, until the night
I'll just be holding on.
Until the night, until the night
When I see you again.

As you come to the close of your years at Merrimack, you might do well to pause a moment and reflect. It may be questionable in some people's minds as to whether or not you actually learned anything; be assured that you have gained an appreciable sum of knowledge. The application of the knowledge is what lies ahead.

Each of you have made your contribution in your own way, some having been more successful than others. You all shall continue to do so in the future; after all that is what "society" expects of you. Do not, however, be so self contained in your persuits or enveloped in your achievements that the self is hidden from view. The Personality, the being that is you, is what is important. Long after the glow of achievements and awards, it is only the award winner who is cognizant, and the personality, the you that remains. For in the long run, it is not what we do that is remembered in the minds eye, but who we were and are.

Thanks

For sunlit hours and visions clear,
For all remembered faces dear,
For comrades of a single day
Who sent us stronger on our way,
For friends who shared the year's long road
And bore with us the common load,
For hours that levied heavy tolls
But brought us nearer to our goals,
For insights won through toil and tears,
We thank the Keeper of the Years.

Clyde McGee
